* Families are encouraged to contact high schools directly to confirm admissions policies.

 Some schools (or programs within schools) are described as using the NYC Department of Education's "Educational Options" admissions method (Ed Op). Ed Op schools or programs fill half of their seats by blind lottery (with no regard to State test scores). The remaining seats are divided into 3 buckets: high (16%), low (16%), and middle (68%). Students without State ELA test scores are automatically placed in the middle category.
